

HOT METAL MAMA

Working with steel, aluminum and a fiery torch gave metal artist Teresa Thompsen her nickname and business name.

WWW.HOTMETALMAMA.COM

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Teresa Thompson is a Florida-born metal artist who hand-crafts each piece with torch in hand. She custom designs fences for homes across the country and has a collection of pieces from fireplace fences to light sconces. she recently installed a public commission at the eco-friendly public works building in Gainesville, Florida. Her work has been featured in Miami Herald, Lexus magazine and Coastal Living magazine. For information, to place an order and for pricing visit HotMetalMama.com

I KNOW WHY THE CAGED BIRD SINGS

Inspired by Maya Angelou's "I know why the caged bird sings" poem, Teresa Thompson created a series of 5"x5" art boxes, each one telling a story. Notice the music paper lining the bird cage and below that notice that words to Maya Angelou's famous poem surround the interior of the box.

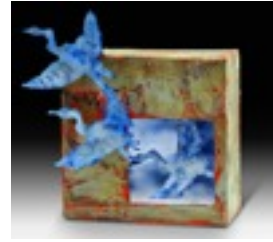

BIRDS ON A WIRE

This piece is from the outside looking in. A flock of birds sit outside windows peering into the lives of humans. They are peeping-birds, who are also being viewed by birdwatchers.

BLUE PALM

Palm trees symbolize the tropics, vacations, relaxation and all things good in life. This design wakens those feelings and memories.

WINTER LIFT OFF

Elegant herons take flight to return south for the winter. The sights they must see on their journey!