TuneRite Computer Service
Press Agent

Due to the enormous volume of technology products being released in the market today, TechWorks strives to work with the press and media outlets to ensure our message is being heard as a standout in the computer industry. It is our goal to distinguish ourselves in the consumer computer market as being a leader in simplifying technology for the masses.

TechWorks CS, LLC, is dedicated to communicating with the press. To meet this goal, TechWorks has provided the press and media outlets with a special version of the TuneRite Assistant software called the "Press Agent."

Differing only slightly from the full paid version, the Press Agent is the best way to test and determine if TuneRite's claims are accurate.

A special press only version of the TuneRite assistant is available for evaluation purposes. You can find more information and download a copy of the TuneRite Press Agent here:
