

TrendBiter is an automatic self-contained trading system which frees the user from decision-making [e.g. regarding parameter setting], stressful monitoring of the markets, and any additional analysis.

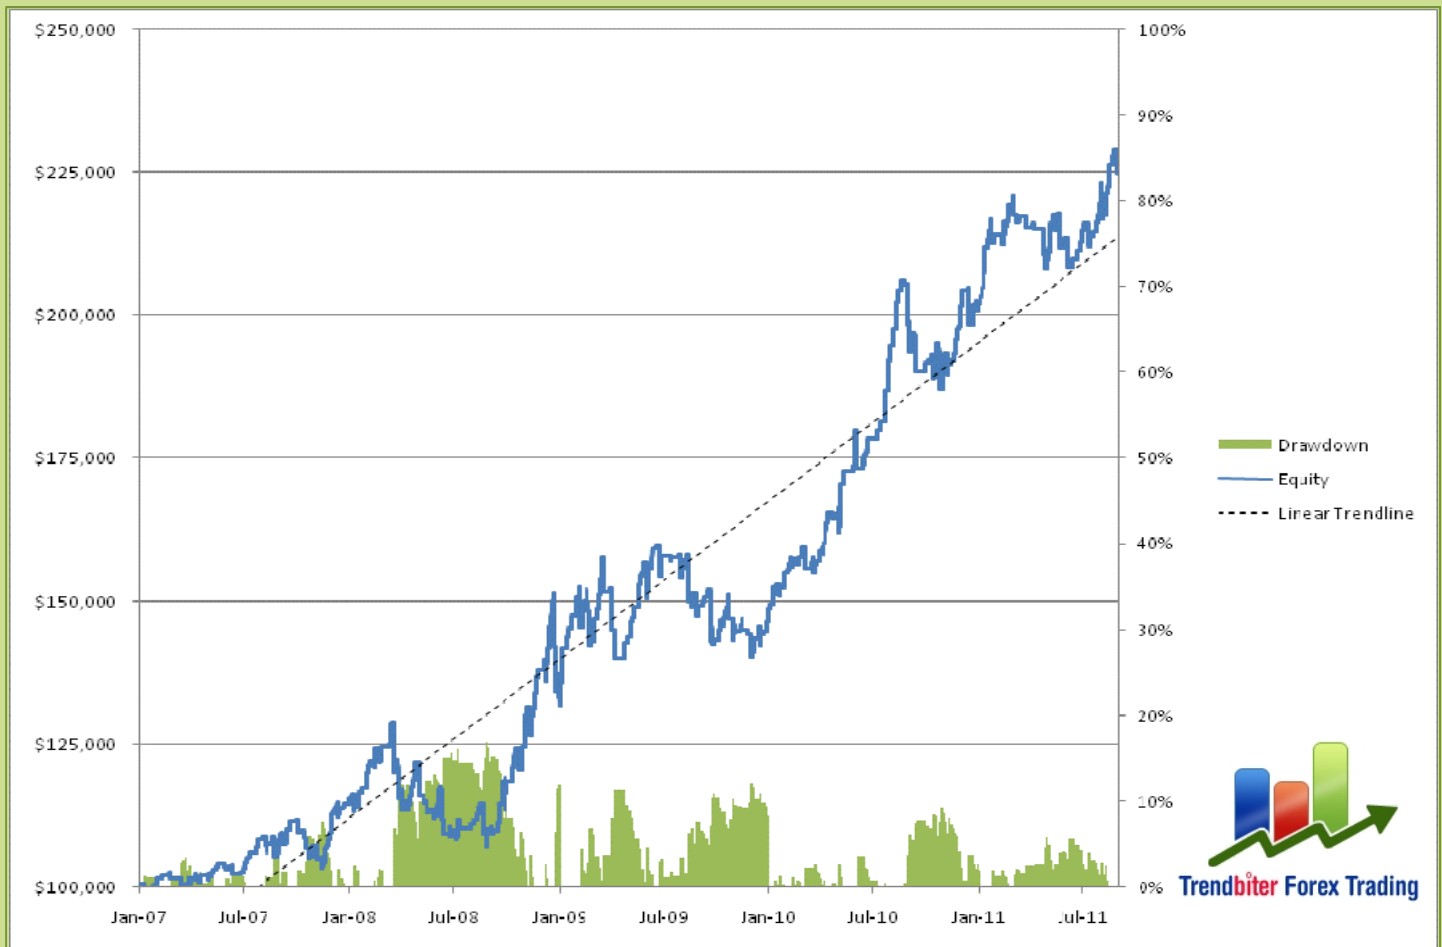

TrendBiter uses a unique proprietary indicator to determine the medium-term trend, and then takes small "bites" out of it at strategically high-probability opportunities.

TrendBiter has been tested thoroughly on all the major currency pairs since 2007 with positive returns every year.

Toronto, ON, Oct. 12, 2011 - TradingSystems.ca is pleased to welcome TrendBiter® to their Partner Program, Trendbiter is a proprietary automated forex strategy authored by Dr. Trent Soyuz, an expert designer of automated systems, as a commercial venture to share his forex trading method with active traders, investors and fund managers.

THE TrendBiter® DIFFERENCE.

TrendBiter® seeks excellent opportunities but typically finds relatively few trades every year (about 10 per pair). It is thus designed for patient investors whose investment horizon is at least one year:

RISK MANAGEMENT

TrendBiter uses two internal hedging mechanisms to reduce risk. The result is that during some years, some pairs are down. However, throughout the testing period as a whole, each pair is substantially profitable on its own.

BACK-TESTING REPORT / STATISTICS

TrendBiter was extensively back-tested for the seven major currency pairs for each one of the 2007 – 2011 calendar years (2011 till 6/10/2011). While this strategy has been profitable for every single year (2007-2011 YTD), no claims can be made regarding future performance (see disclaimers).
