PRESS RELEASE

Doomsday Coins has released its first coin commemorating the end of the world predicted by radio evangelist Harold Camping on October 21st, 2011

Doomsday Coins announces the launch of its web site and its first coin, commemorating the numerous ends of the world predicted by radio evangelist Harold Camping. Reverend Camping predicted the end of the world in 1988, 1994 and twice in 2011. His first predicted date in May 2011 passed without event but the world will now end instead on October 21st, 2011 according to Camping. Visit our web site to check the Doomsday Calendar for the next predicted Armageddon, order supplies for your doomsday party, survival gear for the apocalypse, and a Doomsday Coin to commemorate the event! A portion of our sales will fund a contest on our web site for the best educational project that promotes cult awareness.

- Coins

Our next coin will commemorate the end of the Mayan Calendar in 2012. Doomsday Coins are minted for us by a private mint. Each coin is 1.5 inches in diameter with an antique brass finish and includes an individual display stand.

- Calendar

Our Doomsday Calendar lets our visitors plan for each doomsday as it approaches, whether they are planning to have a party or survive the apocalypse or both.

- Survival Gear

Visitors to our web site can order first aid kits, bug-out bags with food and water for up to a year, hand powered radios and flashlights, and even packs of seeds for starting over again after civilization collapses.

- Party Supplies

Doomsdaycoins.com offers unique party supplies with an apocalyptic theme. Black table cloths, cups, plates, serving platters and silverware with or without zombies or skulls, window covers to make it look like the undead are attacking your party, and much more.

- Contest

A percentage of each sale goes into our Doomsday Education Fund. Visitors to doomsdaycoins.com can submit ideas for projects that focus on educating the public about the dangers of doomsday cults. See the Doomsday Education Fund page on our web site for more information.
