

Newest Research, Fewest Visits, Best Results

Drew Schlabach Bio

Drew Schlabach graduated from Walsh University in Canton, Ohio in 2011, earning his Doctorate of Physical Therapy. He has recently been certified in ASTYM and taken continuing education courses with Evidence in Motion for the cervical and thoracic spine and lower extremity. Drew plans to begin an orthopedic residency in January to become an orthopedic certified specialist.

When not working, Drew enjoys spending time with his wife, two-year-old daughter and yellow lab. Drew and his wife are expecting another baby in November. He is an avid fantasy baseball and football fan and can often be found doing research on players and making changes to his lineup on weekends. He also enjoys cooking, grilling, playing baseball or golf.