

“Plant stem cells to protect skin stem cells”
Confers age-delaying and anti-wrinkle effects

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

A novel technology has enabled the cultivation of a rare Swiss apple, Uttwiler Spatlauber, which is extremely rich in phytonutrients, proteins, and long-living stem cells. These qualities give the apple excellent storability, and therefore, great longevity potential. Thanks to this technology, stem cells from this apple can be obtained and used in topical applications, which ensure the longevity of skin cells. Stem Cell Serum is a liposomal preparation developed from these unique plant-based stem cells.
