

Here's what a Handful of the Participating Bands are Saying about TRAFFIC JAM and the 11-11-11 GLOBAL TRAFFIC JAM

SELECTED QUOTES FROM THE USA . . .

"I was first made aware of the prevalent world-wide tragedy of human trafficking a couple of years ago. It blows me away that it is not a far off problem but one that is happening right under our noses. As a musician, I love that art and music have the ability to draw people in and make them aware of what is going in our world today, conquering ignorance. I'm incredibly excited to team up with Traffic Jam to put on a concert to do just that."

- Doug Mains and the City Folk (www.dougmainsmusic.com)

"We always love to do what we can to support good causes like this"

- Hangman's Heart (www.facebook.com/hangmansheart)

"I learned about this event through a friend of mine and loved the idea of musicians all over being united for this cause. I am excited to be a part of it!"

- Nick James Warren (<http://facebook.com/nickjameswarrenmusic>)

"We want to do everything we can to fight and end slavery and injustice - to protect and defend the most vulnerable around the world. It's a cause we're very passionate about."

- HoneyHoney (<http://honeyhoneyband.com>)

"Human trafficking is a despicable crime that needs to be stopped. We believe in Traffic Jam's approach to bringing modern day slavery to a halt. We are inspired by Traffic Jam's motivation to rescue and counsel victims of this atrocity. We are behind Traffic Jam 100% of the way."

- GRIT (www.GritMusic.com)

"I have been trying to set up a show with a human trafficking outreach program for some time as it is something we really want to make people think and care about."
