AlliSTAR™ – Premium Garlic, Ginger, & Star Anise Supplement

Ginger is frequently used as an all-natural blood thinner to help prevent heart attacks, strokes and other heart-related conditions. Gingerol is a chemical that naturally occurs in ginger and has been shown to prevent blood cells and platelets from clotting and clumping. Ginger has also been proven to prevent cholesterol production in the liver.

Garlic has been used as an antibiotic, to reduce cholesterol, to reduce blood pressure, and an anti-inflammatory (which is also what makes it an anti-aging supplement), and a decongestant. Studies have indicated that garlic also helps to prevent certain types of cancers. It has also been suggested that garlic can inhibit the growth of existing cancers.

Garlic has been proven to fight heart disease. The natural chemicals in garlic help to keep platelets from sticking together thus preventing clots. Additionally, garlic can even help with depression as it releases serotonin.

Star Anise uses include improving the common cold and sinusitis, increasing the breast milk supply, and treating many digestive ailments.
