ProbioticSmart.com Launches new PSC Q&A feature
New feature allows customers to ask questions and share knowledge

Menomonie, Wisc., Nov. 28, 2011 – Every pet parent has questions regarding their pet’s health and ProbioticSmart.com has now introduced a new Q&A feature, PSC Q&A, to help get those questions answered. Designed to be a resource for pet parents to ask questions and share their knowledge, the new Q&A section is gaining momentum very quickly. Whatever questions you may have about pets, the ProbioticSmart.com Community is here to help.

Punkaj Jain (PJ), Vice President at ProbioticSmart.com, said “It is a horrible feeling when you have a question about your pet’s health and not know where to turn for advice, other than a costly trip to see a veterinarian. Now, with this new PSC Q&A feature pet parents can both ask questions and share their knowledge by answering other posted questions. Ultimately, our goal for PSC Q&A is to create an active community of people sharing their knowledge with one another. “

With PSC Q&A users have the ability to ask questions of the community, answer questions, and share their knowledge. They may also comment on other people’s comments and replies or ask related questions. In addition, PSC Q&A allows users to vote answers up or down based on the content, which moves the most relevant information to the top. Most importantly, users can search the site for questions that they have, which may already have been posted and answered.

This new PSC Q&A feature can be found online at www.probioticsmart.com/qa.
