

Established in the 1970's, Barnett Dermatology is nationally and internationally recognized for its pioneering work in dermatology and dermatologic and cosmetic surgery. The philosophy of our practice is one that combines time-proven procedures with cutting-edge techniques for the diagnosis and treatment of skin, hair and nail conditions.

In addition to diagnosing and treating dermatologic conditions such as acne, scars, warts, moles, birthmarks, psoriasis and skin cancer, Barnett dermatology specializes in the full range of cosmetic dermatology. We offer procedures such as Botox, chemical peels, leg vein treatments and wrinkle fillers as well as more advanced and minimally-invasive procedures including hair restoration surgery and laser resurfacing.

Barnett Dermatology is committed to helping you attain skin that looks healthy, and makes you feel young, refreshed, and self-confident.

Dr. Channing Barnett, daughter and partner of Dr. Jay G. Barnett, is a board certified dermatologist, with particular expertise in dermatologic and cosmetic surgery. The cornerstone of her successful Manhattan practice is her philosophy of using minimally invasive procedures for maximum skin care results and long-term benefits. Dr. Barnett's commitment to patient care and continued involvement in the research and development of new dermatological and cosmetic procedures ensures that her patients receive the most effective and sophisticated treatments available.

A graduate of Princeton University where she played on the women's varsity basketball team, Dr. Barnett received her medical degree from Albert Einstein College of Medicine. She then completed a surgical internship at Lenox Hill Hospital, followed by a dermatology fellowship at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center. During the fellowship she worked on clinical trials investigating hair loss, skin cancer, nail disease and psoriasis. Dr. Barnett went on to complete a three-year residency in Dermatology at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center.

Photo by Vidura Barrios

Dr. Barnett has published a number of papers in various medical and surgical journals and contributed to several online publications and book chapters. She has also studied with distinguished dermatologists and cosmetic surgeons across both the United States and Europe in an effort to learn from the most reputable and innovative physicians in the field.

In addition to her private practice, Dr. Barnett holds the academic appointment of Assistant Clinical Professor in the Department of Dermatology at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center. She is also an Attending Physician in the Department of Dermatology at the James J. Peters VA Medical Center in Bronx, NY where she has her own clinical practice and where she teaches dermatologic surgery to the dermatology residents.

Dr. Barnett is a Diplomate of the American Board of Dermatology. She is a member of numerous professional societies including the American Academy of Dermatology, the American Society of Dermatologic Surgery, the International Society of Dermatologic Surgery, the Dermatologic Society of Greater New York, the New York Facial Plastic Surgery Society, the Women's Dermatologic Society and the New York Academy of Medicine.

Your first visit with Dr. Channing Barnett will be a comprehensive consultation on any medical and/or cosmetic issues you would like to discuss with the doctor. Multiple conditions and/or treatments may be discussed and reviewed. This initial consultation should also include a thorough full body skin exam to check for skin cancer.

We want the consultation to be totally informative and complete. Enough time is always provided to make you feel comfortable and to make sure you understand all aspects of what is being discussed, examined, and possibly treated.

Dr. Jay G. Barnett | Dr. Channing R. Barnett
163a East 70th Street, New York, NY 10021 | 212-734-2800
<http://www.barnettdermatology.com>
info@barnettdermatology.com