Motion detectors are considered being an important part of all home security systems. Functionally speaking, a motion detector is a device that can detect any motion in its vicinity. Most of the motion detectors have a range between and 50 and 80 feet. Almost all modern day motion detection devices use an electronic motion sensor. These sensors can create an electric signal whenever it detects any motion near it. Most of the latest detectors use a technology that is known as the dual zone sensor technology. Like all other products of the company, the motion detector from Your Alarm Now is also blessed with the latest features.

Most of the home security systems providers have a motion detection device in their package. The common problem with most of these detectors is that of false alarm. False alarm refers to alarms that are caused by electrical or mechanical failures. False alarms can also be caused by activation of the alarm system by the pets in a household. This has been a limitation of most of the motion detection systems so far. However, the detector from Your Alarm Now has completely eliminated this problem. The motion detectors manufactured by the company are completely immune to the pets weighing 80 pounds or below. Announcing the launch of this amazing device, the owner of the company Mr. Paul Shakuri said, "This motion detector is particularly useful for those who have pets in their house. The device is smart enough to eliminate the chances of any alarm being triggered by the pets". The pet friendly dual zone motion detector from Your Alarm Now has already become a favorite with the families that have pets in their house.

Your Alarm Now has been a trusted home security systems provider since a long time. The company is in an expansion mode, and they are now offering their service in most of the major cities in the United States and Canada. They are known for providing innovative security solutions to the households within an affordable budget. Many of the customers of the company have thanked the company for introducing this motion detection system. Robert, an animal lover from Arkansas, praised the company saying, "I have many pets in my house. My pervious motion detector used to trigger false alarms every now and then. The new device from Your Alarm Now has made life easy for all of us including my pets".
