Noted manufacturer of home security systems, Your Alarm Now, have declared that their customers can now avail wireless window and door sensors absolutely free of charge when they install the home security package from them. Your Alarm Now has earned a great reputation as a top notch security service provider over the last few months. They are one of the fastest growing companies in this field at present. Apart from the United States, their top class security service is also available in Canada. The company belongs to seasoned home security specialist Mr. Paul Shakuri. He had an illustrious career as a security consultant before he started his own company.

Wireless sensors are an integral component of home security systems that can provide trustworthy security to doors and windows throughout the house. These sensors allow the homeowners to secure places which are difficult to access. Homeowners prefer wireless sensors because it helps them maintain the aesthetics of their home. Moreover, they are equally effective as the traditional wired sensors. Breaking the news of this free offer, Mr. Shakuri said, "We will provide you as many as three points of protection without any additional expense". He also added that these sensors are complimented by a sophisticated door chime that will send an alarm when any of the doors and windows is opened. The house owners can install these sensors in as many areas as they want.

Installation of home security systems was considered to be a luxury some years ago. However, the scenario has changed completely now with a steady increase in crime rate all over the world. Many companies are now offering security service to households in Canada and America. Your Alarm Now offers a complete package consisting of devices like motion detectors, burglar alarm, remote keychain device, etc. The most noteworthy feature of their systems is that they can provide uninterrupted security service even when there is a power outage or a natural disaster, thanks to its back up power supply.

About the Company: Your Alarm Now is an ADT authorized dealer of home security systems that provide their service throughout the United States and Canada. The company is now offering free three point protection with door and window sensors to their customers with their package.
