The company provides this certificate with all their security systems. The certificate is particularly useful for homeowners to avail the same security service when they relocate to a new house.

Surprise, AZ (PRWEB) December 10, 2011

Your Alarm Now is one of the most reputed home security systems manufacturers in the entire country. They have just announced that their customers would now receive a 10% discount whenever they upgrade their ADT Move Certificate. This certificate helps the customers to enjoy uninterrupted security service when they shift to a new house. The company offers this certificate as a part of its security packages. It may be recalled that Your Alarm Now is an ADT authorized dealer providing their service in the United States, and the neighboring country of Canada. They have a comprehensive relocation plan for their customers.

Many people need to relocate frequently, mostly due to their work related requirements. As a leading home security systems company, Your Alarm Now thrives to provide security service that is tailor-made for the frequent travelers. Announcing the 10 % discount offer on the upgradation of the certificate, the owner of the company Mr. Paul Shakuri said, “We understand the concerns of our customers who change their home for different reasons. Proper security is required for them in the new neighborhood that is unknown to them”. He also added that this discount is valid on all the security packages offered by the company. Mr. Shakuri is a seasoned industry expert who has spent several years of his career in the domestic security industry.

The home security systems from Your Alarm Now hit the market a few months ago. The company has quickly made significant ground in the industry by providing a very high standard of service. Their packages boast of some of the most advanced security devices available in the market. Some of the best technical experts of the country are associated with them, providing security to millions of people in Canada and America. The company has three service plans starting from a monthly charge of $35.99. The most noteworthy feature of their systems is that they can work, even when there is no power or telephone line is available. The declaration of the discount on the ADT security move certificate upgrade has been appreciated by the customers of the company.
