HORIZON launches Enhanced Home Inspection Report Archiving Home Inspection reports are now safe, secure and archived for 7 years

Toronto (December 21, 2011) Carson Dunlop announced that their HORIZON Report Writing Software, will archive inspection reports for a seven year period. The cloud-based system protects home inspectors by keeping their reports safe, secure and archived for seven years. HORIZON records are not only secure but are instantly accessible from anywhere there is Internet access. This helps to meet regulatory and financial reporting requirements.

"Our cloud based reporting system enables us to easily launch new and exciting enhancements to help serve and protect our home inspectors." commented Alan Carson, President of Carson Dunlop. "HORIZON's cloud based reporting system makes this breakthrough possible and clearly demonstrates our commitment to making report writing Simple, Fast and Secure for Home Inspectors." added Mr. Carson.

The HORIZON system archives multiple versions of reports, work orders, appendices and unpublished photos all in one spot to keep records together and make life simple.
