

Your Alarm Now Introduces Their Home Security Systems in Canadian Market.

Your Alarm Now, one of the most successful home security systems providers in America, is now offering their service throughout Canada. The company has already built a very good reputation in the American home security market in the last few months. The launch of the service has been welcomed by the homeowners in Canada.

The home security systems from Your Alarm Now are now available in Canada. Your Alarm Now is a recently formed company that has done exceedingly well in the American market since last few months. The company is owned by well known home security expert Mr. Paul Shakuri. The security systems from the company are equipped with all the latest features and equipments in this field. They are presently offering three packages that conform to the highest standards in terms performance. All these packages are reasonably priced for the benefit of the common users.

The launch of the home security systems in Canada was officially announced recently by Mr. Shakuri. Breaking the news, he said, "Our security packages are now available in all the major cities in Canada. This launch takes us one step closer to providing our service to all parts of Canada and America". Official sources have revealed that the company has very aggressive expansion plans to provide service even in the remotest parts of these two countries. The most useful feature of the packages from the company is that they can function even without home power supply and landline telephone connection. Other popular components of the packages include the remote keychain control device, pet immune motion sensors, door and window sensors, and many more. The company is an ADT authorized dealer of security systems for households.

Within a few weeks, Your Alarm Now has tasted success in the Canadian home security market, too. Their low cost and high performance packages have already been installed in many households. Robert Pruitt from Toronto is one of their earliest clients in Canada. He thanked Your Alarm Now saying, "I had heard about them from my sister who lives in Dallas. Now I know the merit of my decision to have my home security systems installed by them. They provided top class service exactly according to my requirement. I wish them a great future in Canada". The industry experts have also suggested that the future of Your Alarm Now is very promising in the Canadian market.

About the Company: Your Alarm Now is a company providing security solutions to household customers. The American company has recently started providing service in Canada.
