ALLILION ACADEMY LONDON

INTRODUCTION

"We hope to inspire people in a way that gives them the knowledge and freedom to inspire others and to push the standards of our industry forward."

Allilion is a hair education company teaching at all levels spreading infectious enthusiasm for our craft. Allilion was created by a team of people with a passion for hair that take pride in their craft, specializing in producing hair shows, seminars and courses which explore haircutting and colouring techniques.

We are committed to developing a team worthy of global recognition for their technical ability and working with like-minded individuals who share this hunger to exceed their own expectations.

Our courses are designed to both stimulate and support your personal development, helping you explore the diversity of our industry. Our education ethos is driven by our passion for our craft.

THE FOUNDATION

Allilon and salon partner ena invite you to explore the path of Foundation, which every iconic hairstylist has walked. Every student will experience seminars, demonstrations, lectures, hands-on workshops and salon life.

Three days a week will be spent in technical workshops, demonstrations and lectures. Allilon is committed to a student/teacher ratio of six students to each teacher. Guaranteeing a personal, intense and supportive learning environment that gives each student the attention they deserve.

Two days each week will be spent job shadowing one of our Directors as they perform the skills that are needed to reach the standards required by the modern client. This will give an insight to what client expectations are and how you as the stylist can deliver them using the techniques that you are learning.

Students will be mentored in visiting all the leading galleries, museums and exhibitions that London has to offer. Each student, throughout the course, will build up a portfolio of their work to document their progression.

Recommended
Experience Level:
Beginners – 3 years

Duration: 24 weeks

Price: £9,950

THE PRIMARY SHAPES

Our Primary Shapes course is designed to introduce Allilon's basic principles of haircutting. We have created a clear and detailed philosophy, which aims to help at any stage of your career, improving your skills and helping you understand the foundation of our craft. Working methodically with discipline and pride, giving you the confidence to understand why, when and how to make decisions in choosing the most suitable length and shape of a haircut and executing it with a strong technique.

This unique course will consist of demonstrations, lectures and hands-on workshops, which are designed to give you a great understanding in creating beautiful shapes.

Course content:

- Power point presentation
- Presentation models
- Demonstrations
- Hands on work sessions

A perfect introduction to Allilon's philosophy and language of hair:

Recommended
