PSCPets.com Helps Pet Parents Be Prepared for the Unexpected

With Nutri-Lyze on hand, Pet Parents can be prepared for an accidental poison ingestion.

Menomonie, Wisc., Jan. 03, 2012 – Thousands of pets die every year due to unexpected accidental poisonings, partly due to fact that most pet owners do not know what signs to look for, or how to handle the situation appropriately once it occurs. Through the month of January, 2012 PSCPets.com wants to help pet owners prepare for the unexpected and help ensure that there is an adequate pet poison first aid kit available in the home.

Many times, as pet parents know, our pets eat various things around their environment that they shouldn't, such as chocolate, household cleaners, or a decorative plant, which in many cases can be poisonous. Pet Parents can "pet proof" their homes in the same manner as one would do for a small child, but there is still the potential for accidental ingestion to occur. Thus, PSCPets.com wants to help pet parents be prepared for these accidental poison ingestions by providing them with a free tube of Nutri-Lyze, an emergency first aid product for pet poisonings, for only the cost of shipping during the month of January, 2012.

"We understand that pets are truly part of the family and our goal is to help pet parents be prepared for the unthinkable." Said Punkaj Jain (PJ), Vice President at ProbioticSmart.com. "We know everyone thinks that their pet will never be accidentally poisoned, but in reality this does happen and it is best to be able to act appropriate if this does occur. This includes being able to act quickly, when every moment counts."

Nutri-Lyze, is veterinarian formulated to help absorb the toxins in the gastrointestinal tract, which will help to allow enough time to get your pet to the vet. This product comes in an easy to use tube, which allows pet parents to accurately measure the amount of product that is being used. The moment your pet is poisoned, simply measure the recommended amount of Nutri-Lyze orally, and then seek the attention of a qualified veterinarian immediately. Also, included with each Nutri-Lyze is a household hazards check list, an emergency contact sheet, and a tube of Stable-Lyze, which is a probiotic supplement that helps maintain digestive health and normal energy levels during times of stress. Plus, in addition for each tube of Nutri-Lyze that is ordered during the month of January, PSCPets.com will also donate one tube to a rescue organization to help them prepare new adopters for the unexpected.

Pet parents who would like to receive the [Nutri-Lyze & Stable-Lyze combo](http://Nutri-Lyze & Stable-Lyze) for only $6.99 to cover the cost of shipping can order the product online, or by calling 1-888-873-9719.
