

SINGAPORE EMPLOYMENT PASS GUIDE

RIKVIN

OVERVIEW

The Employment Pass (EP) is the main type of Singapore work visa issued to overseas professionals, managerial personnel (managing directors, general managers, CEOs), executives or specialists who wish to work in Singapore.

The Ministry of Manpower (MOM) allows foreigners to apply for the Singapore EP after they have incorporated their Singapore company so that they can live and work in Singapore. The EP neither falls under any quota system nor requires a monthly levy charge.

You can apply for Singapore Employment Pass (EP) if:

- You are a foreign entrepreneur, professional or managing director of a Singapore company and wish to relocate to Singapore to manage your company operations;
- You are a locally-incorporated Singapore company and need to hire foreign employees;
- You have an employment offer from a prospective Singapore employer. In this case, you will need the company to expedite the EP application on your behalf;

The eligibility for a Singapore EP is based on the individual applicant's educational and professional qualifications, specialist skills set or related work experience. The applicant must be drawing a minimum fixed monthly salary of at least S$3,000.

Note: Singapore Employment Passes are carefully assessed by the Ministry of Manpower (MOM), taking into consideration not just the applicant's eligibility, but also the employer's track record and the applicant's value add to the Singapore local workforce.

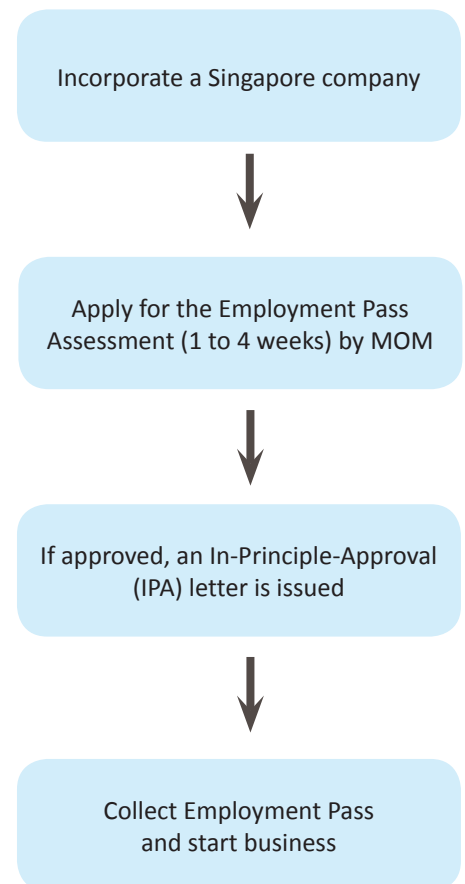

An application's success is also closely-tied to the economic climate within Singapore at the time of application. The authority also considers companies that are able to:

1. complement any of the developing industries promoted by the Singapore government and
2. hire individuals who possess skills that are in short supply or add value to the Singapore workforce.
