

America's Favorite Home Security Systems Dealer Quickly Making its Presence Felt in Canadian Market

Elite Security Services, a renowned home security systems company from the United States, is rapidly making grounds in the Canadian domestic security industry. The company arrived in Canada during the later stages of the year 2011. They provide top notch security solutions for extremely affordable price range.

Elite Security Services is all set to become a major player in the home security systems industry in Canada. The company introduced their security services in the Canadian market a few months ago. They are already a well known name in America for their cost effective security systems for residential application. The company is owned and managed by American home security wizard Mr. Paul Shakuri. He has been a distinguished security industry expert for years, and now runs his own company with the vision of providing round the clock security to all within an affordable budget.

The home security systems from the company are available in three amazing packages with monthly charges of $35.99, $40.99, and $45.99. The wireless security systems from them are tailor made for round the clock protection of houses because they can work without the home power supply. The company also has provision for systems that can function without the basic land line telephone, thanks to cellular back up system. Talking about the security systems from the company, Mr. Shakuri recently said, "Our systems are designed to protect your home 24 x 7 irrespective of the external factors life power supply or telephone line. We have tried to price them reasonably enough for every homeowner in America and Canada because domestic security is no longer a luxury". He also mentioned that the company is always committed to enhancing their packages in order to make life easier for their customers.

Elite Security Services has received exemplary success in Canada within a very short time. Ben from Montreal, one of the earliest Canadian customers of the company, expressed his gratitude saying, "I used to think that home security is an expensive affair. Elite security has provided me all I wanted for an incredible price. I wish them all the best in Canada". Their home security systems have already been installed many households in the larger Canadian cities like Toronto, Montreal, Calgary, Vancouver, Edmonton, etc. Reliable sources have divulged that the company is expanding now in the relatively smaller cities and suburbs in Canada.

About the Company: Elite Security Services is a familiar home security service provider based out of Arizona, United States. The company is now making steady progress in the Canadian market. They are also an active affiliate of Protect Your Home.
