

Elite Security Services Introduce Free 3 Point Protection for their Home Security Systems in Canada with Sophisticated Sensors for Doors and Windows.

Elite Security Systems has recently enhanced their home security systems in Canada by the addition of highly advanced sensors for doors and windows. The customers can receive 3 points of free protection with these sensors when they install the security packages from the company.

The advanced home security systems from Elite Security Services will now have an advanced door and window sensor in Canada, too. These sensors are already extremely popular components of their packages in the United States. The company has been providing top class service throughout the United States and Canada since the later part of the year 2012. Their packages have received excellent response in both the countries because of their highly competitive price and professional service. All these packages provide round the clock protection using all the latest innovations in the domestic security industry.

While signing up for their home security systems, the Canadian customers of the company will now receive three points of protection with these sensors for no additional expense whatsoever. Introduction of this new component in Canada was announced by the owner of the company Mr. Paul Shakuri. During the launch ceremony, he said, “Now all the components of our systems are available in Canada. We are happy to introduce free three point protection with our wireless sensors”. He also added that these wireless sensors are better than the traditional sensors because they cause no harm to the aesthetics of the home. Wireless sensors are preferred by most of the customers now due to this reason. These are an indispensable part of any modern security system because it secures different inaccessible parts of a house. Along with these wireless sensors, Elite Security Services is also offering an advanced door chime that sends an alert each time any of the doors or windows is opened.

The success of Elite Security Services can be attributed to the different advanced components of their home security systems. Some of the most popular of these components include a remote keychain control device, digital keypad device, a pet friendly motion detector, and many more. The security systems offered by the company are technologically equipped to keep functioning even when there is a power failure. There is also a special package for households that do not have a landline telephone. The mission of the company is to promote a crime free society by providing leak proof security to all households within an affordable price, according to Mr. Shakuri.

About the Company: Elite Security Services is a company providing excellent domestic security within affordable price in America and Canada. The company recently started providing their service in Canada. The company is also an active affiliate of Protect Your Home.
