PSCPets Joint Support Soft Chews Makes Giving Dogs a Joint Supplement Enjoyable Again! Make the struggle of getting your dog to eat his joint supplement a thing of the past!

Menomonie, Wisc., Jan. 19, 2012 – More than ever before, pets are truly furry family members and pet parents now have access to supplements that can help their pets live longer and healthier lives. In the past, helping a family dog live with joint pain used to require an expensive trip to the vet and a daily battle when trying to administer the prescribed medication, even when it did not taste appealing. However, this daily struggle can now be avoided thanks to PSCPets Joint Support Soft Chews for Dogs, which makes providing a joint supplement truly enjoyable for the both the pet parent and their dog.

As dogs age the damage to their joints accumulates over time from normal, everyday wear and tear. Joint pain can occur in dogs of all ages, breeds, and sizes, but is increasingly prevalent in senior dogs. Although this is part of the aging process for all species, there are supplements available to help increase and prolong a dog's overall joint health and mobility. One of the biggest struggles that pet parents face when choosing a joint supplement is trying to find a product that their dog will willing ingest. Now, thanks to PSCPets' state of the art, cold-pressed, soft chew manufacturing process, pet parents will be able to easily know that the supplement was actually ingested.

"We understand that when pet parents buy a joint supplement they have every intention of giving it to their dog daily because it is so hard to see them suffering." Said Punkaj Jain (PJ), Vice President at ProbioticSmart.com. "However, we know that when a pet refuses to take a supplement it can make the pet parents frustrated and want to give up. With our new PSCPets Joint Support Soft Chews, dogs can now enjoy receiving their joint supplement and pet parents can feel good about providing it."

PSCPets Joint Support Soft Chews for Dogs contains a blend of ingredients including glucosamine and chondroitin, which helps support healthy joints for dogs of all breeds and sizes. These soft chews are easy for pet parents to provide daily since they are designed to be palatable so that even picky eaters think they are getting a daily treat. The entire line of PSCPets Soft Chew Supplements are available in 2 gram chews for smaller dogs under 20 lbs and 4 gram chews for medium and large dogs over 20 lbs.

Pet parents who would like to purchase the PSCPets Joint Support Soft Chews for Dogs can order online, or by calling 1-888-873-9719.
