

Home Protection in Canada now Possible for only $1 per Day, Thanks to Elite Security Services.

The house owners in Canada can now avail comprehensive home protection for only $1 per day. This has been made possible by Elite Security Services, a quickly expanding security company from the United States. The basic home security plan from the company has a monthly fee of only $35.99, just marginally more than $1/day.

Home protection has just become cheap like never before in Canada. An eminent American home security consultant named Elite Security Services has recently launched their basic security plan for households with a monthly expenditure of only $35.99. The company is one of the most talked about names in the American domestic security market since the last few months. They have repeatedly hit the headlines in the United States with their three amazing security packages. Presently, the company is in its early days, in the Canadian market, but has been making exceptional progress here, too. Canadian security industry stalwarts have opined that the launch of the basic package will definitely help them penetrate the market more easily.

Elite Security Services has designed their basic home protection plan specifically to provide protection for households with a budget constraint. In spite of being one of the cheapest options in the market, the package boasts of some of the best home security devices. The package was officially launched in Canada recently by the well known security consultant and owner of the company Mr. Paul Shakuri. He introduced the package to Canada saying, “Now you can avail the benefits of a top class security package spending a little more than $1/day. This is certainly a very low price for protecting your life and property”. He also added that his company is presently working on many more technological enhancements for all their security packages.

With the launch of this basic plan, all three home protection packages from Elite Security Services are now available in Canada. The other two packages are priced slightly higher than the basic plan and provide the benefits of the latest technological innovations in this field. These packages are designed to provide uninterrupted security with the help of latest features like battery back up and cellular backup. Many home owners in Canada have already installed the systems from the company to protect their home. Jared, a customer of Elite Security Services thanked them saying, “I could not have asked for more from a home security system. Elite Security has provided me a package that keeps my family safe even when I’m away”.

About the Company: Elite Security Services is a rapidly growing company in the home security industry. They offer economical home security solutions in America and Canada. Elite Security Services is also an active affiliate of Protect Your Home.
