The popular premium package of home security systems have recently been launched in Canada by Elite Security Services. The company achieved phenomenal success in the United States with this premium package. Elite Security Services is an American domestic security company that has recently started expanding in Canada.

The noted American home security systems company Elite Security Services has recently declared the launch of their highly advanced premium package in Canada. The company has been making quick progress in Canada since they started operating in this country recently. It may be recalled that this premium package has been one of the major contributors behind their success in the American market. This advanced package is acclaimed for the latest two way voice technology. This technology provides the facility of connecting to the monitoring stations from anywhere inside the home within seconds. The technological brilliance of the system minimizes the response time by prompt verification of an emergency situation.

Introducing the package in Canada, the owner of the company Mr. Paul Shakuri said, “Two way voice is one of latest developments in the home security industry. Our system has a sophisticated control panel equipped with intercom facility. With this package, the users have the benefit of hands free access to their monitoring station”. This advanced technology is basically an interactive audio verification system that helps the home owners connect to their monitoring center from anywhere inside the house within seconds. This technology ensures fast response from the monitoring centers even when the users can not get to the landline phone. The premium package from Elite Security Services is available for a monthly fee of $40.99.

Elite Security Services provides all the latest security equipment in their home security systems. The company is also highly reputed for top class installation of security systems without affecting the aesthetics of the house. The customers can avail next day installation service from the company without any additional expense. The prices offered by the company are also within an affordable range so that anyone can afford to secure their life and property against all types of security concerns. All these factors have already made them one of the most preferred home security companies in the United States. Elite Security Services looks all set to repeat similar success story in Canada, too.

About the Company: Elite Security Services is an ADT authorized home security systems dealer in the United States. The company is now expanding rapidly in Canada. The company is also an active affiliate of Protect Your Home.
