

BCS Global Wins European CEO Award for “Telepresence Managed Service Provider of the Year 2011”

This award validates BCS Global’s commitment to deliver innovative and easy-to-use managed telepresence services that accelerate the growth and use of telepresence video for intra and intercompany business applications

London, United Kingdom – February 7, 2012 – BCS Global Networks Limited, a leading worldwide provider of managed videoconferencing, telepresence, and visual collaboration services, today announced that it has been named by European CEO as “Telepresence Managed Service Provider of the Year 2011”.

European CEO is proud to embrace a smarter future through the Telepresence Awards 2011, celebrating the leading deliverers of global multimedia communication. The award winners’ media solutions provide an authentic and engaging digital platform for businesses to interact with clients and potential new business partners in a manner that allows for the simple communications of ideas. Through their advanced systems, the winners of the Telepresence Awards 2011 provide the next best thing to meeting in person.

BCS Global was presented with the award for its high-quality managed telepresence services and the pivotal role the company has played in the adoption of telepresence and video conferencing solutions in the European business community.

“We are delighted by this industry recognition, and would like to thank European CEO for acknowledging BCS Global’s market leadership as a managed telepresence service provider of 2011,” said Clive Sawkins, CEO of BCS Global. “This accolade is of great significance to BCS Global. It recognises the business value that we provide to our customers by delivering a world class managed service that enhances the value of telepresence and accelerates utilisation of this service, both inside and outside the enterprise as businesses begin to embrace B2B calling.”

Announcing the award, Heléne Scholl, Editor-in-chief of European CEO said “Many congratulations to everyone at BCS Global, worthy winners of our Managed Service Provider of the Year award. The organisation provides a comprehensive range of hi-tech services and has proven itself to be a market leader in the ever-growing Telepresence industry.”
