MUNITIONS EXECUTIVE SUMMIT

"ACHIEVING EFFICIENCIES ACROSS THE MUNITIONS ENTERPRISE ... COLLABORATION, COMMUNICATION, AND COOPERATION"

The purpose of this year's Munitions Executive Summit will be to address the challenges of maintaining a stable and relevant munitions enterprise amidst an un-stable DoD budget outlook. Furthermore, this summit will explore the contemporary dynamics that affect both the current and future industrial manufacturing complex that services our warfighting capability. In addition to industry executives, this summit will be attended by key Government acquisition leaders, program managers, research and technology centers, and academia involved in the U.S. munitions enterprise.

This summit is intended to create a thoughtful and meaningful discourse on the critical factors that will shape the future munitions landscape. It will bring together key practitioners within the ammunition and ordnance fields to work on effective solutions for the U.S. warfighter and our allies.

ABOUT THE NDIA MUNITIONS TECHNOLOGY DIVISION

The Mission of the Munitions Technology Division is to maintain an open exchange of technical information among government and industry programs and technical managers, and to identify changes and trends in policy, guidance, and organizational functions that impact the development, production, maintenance, and demilitarization of munitions.

The Division is comprised of two sections: Fuze; Insensitive Munitions & Energetic Materials; and one advisory group, the Industrial Committee of Ammunition Producers (ICAP). The sections utilize periodic steering committee meetings and annual meetings to serve as forums where new concepts in products and processes are discussed.

WHO WILL ATTEND

- ▶ Senior Industry Executives
- ▶ Business Development Leaders
- ▶ U.S. Government Acquisition Executives
- ▶ U.S. Government Program and Project Managers
- ▶ Supply Chain Management Professionals
- ▶ Industry Technology Experts
