Have You Crossed The Line?

The New County Finder App For iPhone Can Tell You.

KALAMAZOO COUNTY, MI - FEB 5, 2012 - Hab Apps, the makers of practical navigation apps announced the launch of County Finder for iPhone.

In contrast to typical navigation apps that are focused on getting you to a destination, County Finder is a practical navigation app which shows you what county you are in now. The usefulness of this new technology is obvious and much needed. County Finder is the mobile bridge between paper maps and digital navigation apps.

Location based apps like County Finder allow you to instantly determine your current surrounding administrative boundaries. Law enforcement agencies, real estate professionals, weather watchers, outdoor enthusiasts, and everyday people-on-the-go find the County Finder App to be very useful.

Your county is now digitally accessible by simply tapping your iPhone. The County Finder app updates itself every two seconds so that your current county can be determined even while traveling at a high rate of speed.

There are 3,143 counties in the United States. Louisiana is divided into parishes and Alaska, boroughs. The largest county is Unorganized Borough, Alaska, more than 330,000 square miles. The smallest county by land area is Kalawao County, Hawaii, only 13 square miles. In virtually all U.S. states, the state courts and local law enforcement are organized and implemented along county boundaries. There are on average 63 counties per state.

County Finder is now available in the iTunes App Store for $14.99.
