

Elite Security Services Extends the Free Offer for Keychain Remote Control Equipment with Home Security Systems for another Month

Well known ADT authorized Dealer of home security systems named Elite Security Services has extended their scheme of offering free keychain control device to their customers for the installation of their packages. The customers of the company can avail this offer throughout the month of February, too. This particular device is now being offered without any additional cost for the third consecutive month by the company.

Elite Security Services, an eminent name in the home security systems industry, has extended their scheme of offering free remote keychain control equipment to customers for another month. The same benefit was available for the customers of the company during the last two months, as well. The company sources have mentioned that the ever increasing popularity of the device led to the extension of the offer. Elite Security Services is one of the most promising companies in the present security industry with a complete range of security service within affordable price. Their service is available in all regions of the United States and Canada.

The keychain remote control device is a significant component of the home security systems from the company. This equipment has always been extremely popular among their customers. Talking about the extension of the offer, a senior official of Elite Security Services said “This fantastic equipment can control the entire security system from any nearby location. The device looks like a car remote system and can fit in your pocket easily”. He also added that many of the customers of the company feel that this is the most exceptional component of their packages. Apart from this equipment, the other popular products offered by them include burglar alarm, digital keypad, sensors, motion detectors, and many more.

The packages from Elite Security Services are now available all over Canada and the United States. They have made tremendous progress in both these countries because of their affordable price and highly advanced features. The wireless home security systems from them are equipped with latest features like voice connect, and battery back up technologies to help them keep performing even when there in no power or phone connection. Janice, a customer from Idaho thanked Elite Security Services for their excellent service saying, “Elite Security exceeded my expectations. Their packages are inexpensive, effective, and easy to use. The customer service is just amazing”.

About the Company: Elite Security Services is a home security service provider with a large pool of satisfied customers in Canada and America. They are also an affiliate of Protect Your Home.

Contact
Paul Shakuri

Phone: 800-599-452.

Website: <http://www.YourAlarmNow.com>