

MEDIA RELEASE

Carson Dunlop Launches Their Homeowners Association

A Not-For-Profit Association Helping Clients to Maintain, Repair and Renovate Their Homes

Toronto, (Feb, 14 2012) Carson Dunlop announced today the launch of their not-for-profit Homeowners Association to continue to help their customers make great decisions when maintaining, renovating or repairing their home. Carson Dunlop Home Inspection clients are automatically enrolled in the Homeowners Association FREE of charge and receive several benefits including free technical advice for as long as they own their home, access to group savings on a variety of home related products and ongoing partnerships and programs that help their clients save time and money.

“We launched the Homeowners Association as a way to provide additional knowledge, benefits and savings to our clients, since we believe a great home inspection is just the beginning of our relationship with our clients.” commented Alan Carson, President of Carson Dunlop. “The association partners with like-minded companies to offer our clients additional value and support for as long as they own their home.”

To learn more about Carson Dunlop’s Homeowners Association, please visit their website at: <http://www.carsondunlop.com/home-inspection/homeowners-association/>

For media or press related inquiries, please contact Brian Bell at (416)961-9415 ext. 231.

About Carson Dunlop

Carson, Dunlop & Associates Ltd. has been a leading Consulting Engineering Firm devoted to building inspection since 1978. They are one of the largest independent home inspection companies in North America that leverages their extensive technical knowledge across six integrated business lines - Home Inspection, Commercial Inspection, Report Writing, Energy Audits, Home Inspector Training and Continuing Education.