Where else do small things pack a punch?*

LET'S FIND OUT.

As you step into the investment ring, big wins can come from small contenders. That's why we created the S&P MidCap 400® and S&P SmallCap 600®—the most clearly defined indices of small and mid-size companies in the United States—two equity classes that are winning rounds. Their strict methodologies help you knock out overlap and overweighting and they can form the basis for a diversified portfolio as compared to competing benchmarks.

Go the distance with investments in all shapes and sizes.
