

The YouTube Channel of Elite Security Services Gets a New Home Security Systems Video Now on Digital Keypad Device

Elite Security Systems, a premium home security systems company, have recently made further addition to their impressive YouTube video channel. They have added another information packed video on the digital keypad device to the video channel. The video channel already has many similar videos demonstrating the different devices of their security package.

A brand new video on their home security systems component named digital keypad has been added to the YouTube channel of Elite Security Services. The company launched this video channel just a few months ago and has repeatedly added new contents to it. The digital keypad equipment is a vital component of the security systems provided by Elite Security Services. The company made its appearance in the home protection industry during the later half of the year 2011. Within a brief period of time, they have experienced phenomenal growth in the market. They now provide top class security service all over America and Canada.

Digital keypad device is a crucial component of any of the home security systems available in the market. Elite Security Systems provides a digital keypad that can easily turn a security system on or off by using a four digit password. The video clearly demonstrates how the system can be armed or disarmed using the password. Demonstrating the device in the video, the company owner Mr. Paul Shakuri says, "You can easily ask for emergency assistance from police, paramedics, or fire brigade in case there is an emergency". Mr. Shakuri is a seasoned domestic security professional with years of experience in this field behind him.

Apart from this video, the YouTube video channel has several other short video that demonstrates the functioning of the other devices offered by the company. All the components of home security systems from them conform to the highest standard in the market. One of the major reasons behind the success of Elite Security Services is the affordable price offered by them. Top class installation by skilled technicians is another specialty of Elite Security Services. Reliable company sources have informed that the objective of this video channel is to create mass awareness about home protection among the home owners.

About the Company: Elite Security Services is a rapidly growing company in the home security industry. They offer economical home security solutions in America and Canada. A new video channel has been added to the YouTube video channel of the company.

Contact
Paul Shakuri

Phone: 800-599-8452.

Website: <http://www.YourAlarmNow.com>