

Introducing MTMDashboard for the iPad

MTMDashboard, from KnowledgeAdvisors, is a highly visual, easy-to-use reporting application designed for the unique needs of training and development professionals

It is the ultimate tool for learning executives who need to tell a clear and compelling story anywhere they are around the world.

MTMDashboard allows existing users of the Metrics That Matter™ to view their organization's dashboards out in the field on their iPad.

It provides a useful set of reports, dashboards and data, including the latest benchmark data around key talent development reporting metrics.

With MTMDashboard, users can navigate through the charts and graphs in their dashboard, add notes to crucial data points, and identify their favorites for later use, and more.

Engaging Executive Learning Stakeholders on the iPad

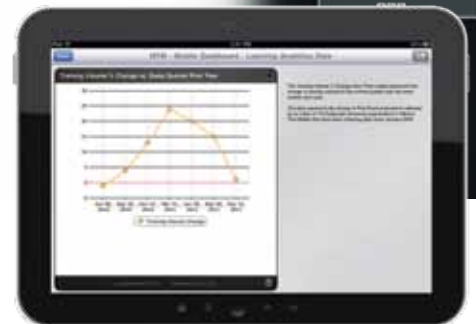

MTMDashboard was designed to engage learning and development leaders by:

- Providing easier and instant access to crucial information
- Targeting and aligning interests and needs
- Serving as a meaningful way to 'start'

Designed to address the evolving communications needs of KnowledgeAdvisors clients, MTMDashboard directly delivers learning metrics data into the hands of business executives where they need it most.

"Our clients have been asking for tools that allow them to share the key learning metrics they use on a day-to-day basis out in the field, in real time, with high impact visuals," said Jeb Metric, Vice President, Product, KnowledgeAdvisors.

"MTMDashboard brings the reports they know and love from Metrics That Matter® to the iPad in a visually rich dashboard format, so they can bring them to life wherever they are."
