Jennifer Rimmer to lead strategic initiatives for AECOM's U.S. Northeast Region

New York (March 12, 2012) - AECOM, a leading provider of professional technical and management support services for public and private sector clients around the world, has appointed Jennifer Rimmer as director of strategic initiatives within its U.S. Northeast Region. Based in New York City, Rimmer will focus on growing AECOM's position in Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, and Vermont.

As an industry expert with 20 years of experience in program management, Rimmer will use her strong strategic and development skills to enhance the firm's business in all markets and sectors that it serves. Prior to joining AECOM, Rimmer was vice president of subsidiary development for the Empire State Development Corporation where she oversaw mega projects in New York City, including the Moynihan Station Development; Javits Convention Center; Brooklyn Bridge Park; and Queens West.

"Jennifer brings a breadth of experience and results in project management, business development and strategic initiatives to AECOM," says Kevin Corbett, vice president of AECOM's strategic initiatives practice in its U.S. Northeast Region. "I'm confident that she will lead the growth and expansion of our already strong market by providing leadership and business line integration throughout the Northeast."

An economic development and planning professional, Rimmer was honored with New York State's Woman of Distinction Award and the Nassau County's Trailblazer Award. She is also a published author and has written several publications, including "Guidebook for Attracting Paratransit Patrons to Fixed-Route Services."
