

About Principal Medical Group: Re-thinking the Practice of Primary Care

It's not uncommon to find people dissatisfied with their primary healthcare; many switch from one provider to the next, finding the same frustrating results: long wait times, scheduling conflicts and confusing billing processes. Maybe it's time to re-think the practice of primary care?

Principal Medical Group (PMG) is a primary care practice located in the heart of McLean, Va. As concierge medicine practitioners, PMG offers the highest level of care with same-day appointments, no wait times, unhurried visits and 24/7 physician access. For an annual fee, PMG members have access to the many benefits of concierge medicine, which are widely unavailable in traditional primary care practices, making convenient, exceptional healthcare a reality.

By significantly reducing the number of patients seen in a day, PMG physicians are able to give their patients the time and attention needed to ensure that health is top notch. This personalized approach provides:

- Excellent, timely care for patients when they are sick
- Comprehensive management of personal wellness with a focus on preventive care, thorough annual exams and executive physicals that identify health issues early on
- Management of complex medical and chronic conditions, as well as acute care and crisis intervention

PMG believes in partnering with patients to achieve maximum well-being and quality of life, with the goal of maintaining health and avoiding illness. That's why our physicians are available when a doctor's visit is convenient to the patient's schedule - because in a busy world, a person's health should never have to wait.
