

America's Premium Home Security Systems Company Elite Security Services Enters the Canadian Market.

Eminent home security Systems Company from the United States named Elite Security Services has just announced their entry to the Canadian security industry. They are one of the foremost players in America, and have now decided to offer service throughout Canada. Highly advanced and economical packages from the company are expected to gain popularity among house owners in Canada. .

After taking the American home security systems industry by storm, Elite Security Services is all set to foray into the Canadian domestic protection market, too. The rapidly expanding company has made phenomenal progress in the industry with their low cost, yet sophisticated security packages. They are now one of the most preferred choices of the home owners to provide security to life and property of the homeowners in the United States. The company belongs to acclaimed security specialist Mr. Paul Shakuri. He is a renowned personality in this sector and has designed many high profile security systems in his illustrious career.

Elite Security Services presently has three high utility home security systems packages for their customers. The basic package comes for a monthly rental of $35.99 only. The two other packages are extremely sophisticated and have slightly higher rental. These packages can work efficiently even without home power supply and telephone line. Talking about the service offered by his company, Mr. Shakuri says, "This is just the beginning of our journey. We are operating with the broader objective of promoting a crime free society in this part of the world". The high profile security consultant also maintains an informative security blog for the millions of house owners throughout the world.

The company boasts of some of the best home security systems professionals of the country. They provide top quality installation service of their wireless systems taking complete care of the aesthetics of the house. The customers of Elite Security Services also receive lucrative, free benefits from time to time. Marvin from Texas is one of the many highly satisfied customers of Elite Security Services. He says, "You can't really ask for more from a security service provider. Elite Security provides complete value for your money".

About the Company: Elite Security Services is a rapidly growing company in the home security industry. They offer highly efficient and economical home security solutions in America and Canada.

Contact

Paul Shakuri

Phone: 800-599-8452.

Website: <http://www.YourAlarmNow.com>