

Elite Security Services Introduces ADT Security Move Certificate Along With Home Security Systems to Maximize Customer Delight.

To the sheer joy of their customers, Elite Security Services has now started offering ADT security move certificate with their home security systems packages. This facility is now available with the all the home protection plans from the company. Elite Security Services' efficient security systems are now available throughout America and Canada.

The home owners signing up with Elite Security Services for their home security systems would now have the additional benefits of receiving ADT move certificate. The company is now referred to as one of the most promising security service providers in this region. It may be recalled that Elite Security Services emerged in the industry during the later half of the previous year, and have already been able to leave a significant impact on the industry. The high profile owner of the company Mr. Paul Shakuri is seasoned security industry professional with vast exposure to different security technologies and systems. The introduction of ADT move certificate is yet another step from the company to conquer the security market in the region.

ADT move certificates can be an extremely important part of home security systems packages for people who relocate frequently for different reasons. Many security systems users now change their homes repeatedly due to their job requirement. This certificate helps users to enjoy the same level of domestic protection in their new residence with minimum hassle. They can also avail a 10% discount whenever they upgrade the certificate. The introduction of this offer has been highly acclaimed by the customers of the company. Anthony, a user of Elite Security Services' package, recently said, "I change my home every 8-10 months due to my job requirement. I could not have asked for more".

The efficient security packages from Elite Security Services are available for only $35.99 per month. In spite of maintaining a low cost, the company has not compromised with any of the functional aspects of their packages. These wireless home security systems are even equipped to function without basic telephone line and home power supply. Talking about the new benefit offered to the customers, Mr. Shakuri says, "We understand the needs of our customers. Many of our customers would benefit from this scheme".

About the Company: Elite Security Services is a rapidly growing company in the home security industry. They offer highly efficient and economical home security solutions in America and Canada.

Contact

Paul Shakuri

Phone: 800-599-8452.

Website: <http://www.YourAlarmNow.com>