

Elite Security Services Introduces Advanced Motion Detectors to their Home Security Systems to Eliminate False Alarms

Elite Security Services has just made a significant enhancement of their home security systems by eliminating the problem of false alarms. The company has just added an extraordinary motion detector that completely prevents false alarms by differentiating between non human and human movements. This device would be particularly useful for families with pets.

The home security systems users of Elite Security Services need not worry anymore about false alarms. An excellent motion detection equipment has just been included to all the security plans offered by the company. This device has the capability to differentiate between the different sources of motion, and efficiently eliminates any chance of false alarms. Elite Security Services is presently one of the leading names in the security industry in America and Canada. All three home protection plans from them have gained very good response from the home owners in this region. This new enhancement has been welcomed with great enthusiasm by the customers of the company.

False alarms are known to be a typical problem with conventional home security systems. This problem occurs when the motion detector is not able to differentiate between the different sources of motion. The situation can be pretty confusing for families that have pets because the system tends to sound false alarm every time the pet passes by the sensor. The device just introduced by Elite Security Services can efficiently identify the sources and restricts alarms for motions that are caused by sources weighing less than 80 pounds.

After the official launch of the device, the owner of the company, Mr. Paul Shakuri said, "We always wanted our systems to be free of false alarms. Now all our customers can avail this advanced device irrespective of what package they choose". It may be recalled that Elite Security Services has three top of the line home security systems plans. Debbie, a home owner from New Jersey expressed her pleasure about introduction of this device by Elite Security Services. She says, "I have heard about Elite Security because some of my friends are already using their security plans. I would also love to install their system now because I have many pets at my home".

About the Company: Elite Security Services is a rapidly growing company in the home security industry. They offer highly efficient and economical home security solutions in America and Canada.
