

Iris Data Services Becomes a Relativity Certified Reseller Electronic Discovery Company to Resell Leading Document Review Platform

KANSAS CITY, MO, April 23, 2012 — Iris Data Services, a leading provider of discovery solutions, announced today that it has become a Relativity Certified Reseller and can now license Relativity directly to clients. As a certified reseller, Iris can offer flexible deployment options including an on-premises license of Relativity, as well as the option to host client licenses in their datacenters. Iris Data Services is a leading supplier of discovery solutions including electronic discovery, computer forensics, attorney document review, and online hosting.

"Becoming a Relativity Certified Reseller will allow Iris to offer Relativity as part of Iris Discovery Management, our managed services program," said Scott Berger, Iris' Vice President of Managed Services. "Not only will Iris be able to sell Relativity licenses directly to law firms and corporations, but now we can host a client's license in our secure, SSAE 16 certified datacenters and manage the associated technical infrastructure and storage, saving our clients significant time and money."

"Iris Data Services has been a Relativity partner since 2010, and they're a welcome addition to our Relativity Certified Reseller program," said Andrew Sieja, president and CEO of kCura. "As a Premium Hosting Partner and now a certified reseller, Iris offers flexible Relativity deployment and licensing options to meet their clients' unique needs."

About kCura

Recognized as a "Leader" in Gartner's most recent E-Discovery Magic Quadrant, kCura are the developers of the e-discovery software Relativity, a web-based platform for the review, analysis, and production of electronic data. Relativity has more than 60,000 active users worldwide from organizations including the U.S. Department of Justice and 95 of the top 100 law firms in the United States. Relativity also powers Method, kCura's workflow and notification system for managing legal hold and risk assessment processes. kCura helps corporations, law firms, and government agencies meet e-discovery challenges by installing Relativity and Method on-premises and providing hosted, on-demand solutions through a global network of partners. kCura has been ranked the 42nd fastest-growing technology company in North America on Deloitte's Technology Fast 500 and named one of Chicago's Top Workplaces by the Chicago Tribune. Please contact kCura at info@kcura.com or visit www.kcura.com for more information.

The logo for IRIS, featuring the word "IRIS" in a white, serif font with a red swoosh underneath.

NEWS
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The logo for Inc. 500, featuring the text "Inc. 500" in a stylized font with a globe in the background.

About Iris

Iris Data Services is a leading supplier of discovery solutions including electronic discovery, computer forensics, document review, and online hosting. Lead by recognized experts in electronic discovery and document review, Iris continually strives to defensibly reduce the amount of reviewable data on every matter. As a Premium Hosting Partner and Certified Reseller for kCura Relativity, Iris' extensive document review expertise includes complex search consulting, computer-aided review technologies, and experienced attorney review teams. Iris' discovery experts, project management team, and use of technology have combined to make it one of the fastest growing companies in the industry. In 2011 Iris Data Services made the Inc. 500 list of the fastest-growing private companies in America, making Iris the fastest growing eDiscovery company in the United States. Iris is headquartered in Kansas City and maintains offices throughout the United States and Asia. For more information about Iris, please visit www.irisds.com.

###

For Further Information:

Scott Sperry, Director of Marketing,
913-937-0594, ssperry@irisds.com