Ephesoft and Consortio Announce Technology Partnership

Information Management expert expands technology suite to deliver the most effective solution for their customers in the U.S. and Asia.

(Irvine, CA: April 26, 2012) Ephesoft Inc., the leader in providing advanced open source cloud-ready capture solutions, and Consortio Inc., a U.S. and Asia based consulting company specializing in Information Management in the Pharmaceutical, Healthcare and Financial domains, today announced the addition of Consortio to Ephesoft's worldwide network of solution providers.

Consortio's areas of expertise include Enterprise Content Management Systems, eDiscovery and Information Security. Consortio's strong consulting experience in highly regulated industries allows them to build strong partnerships with a deep understanding of how to leverage technology that will provide their customers with the solution that's right for them.

Jon Russell, Consortio's Managing Director, explains: "We focus on our customers' information management strategy to help them solve business problems with the best people and technology. In order to do that, we felt that open source must be part of our technical strategy. We chose Ephesoft as our partner because their 100% Java based product and CMIS standards provides exceptional content capture, classification and integration capability. We now can offer our customers solutions which we feel offer the best value in the open source arena."

David Talarico, Ephesoft's Senior Vice President of Sales and Marketing, states: "Ephesoft is pleased to be working with Consortio in North America and the growing Asian markets where customers are price sensitive but still require advanced technology. In this environment, Ephesoft can be very successful since it provides an advanced document capture platform for creating intelligent mailroom automation solutions. It can process any type of document coming into an enterprise by automatically scanning, classifying, separating, and extracting data from documents in paper, fax and electronic formats. With Consortio's skilled staff, they can now fully exploit this market."
