

Latest Digital Keypad Device Added to Bolster the Home Security Systems from Elite Security Services

Highly useful one click digital keypad equipment has been recently included to all the home security systems plans from Elite Security Services. The company's high performance security packages are now available in the American and Canadian market for an economical price range.

Elite Security Services has further enhanced their home security systems with the addition of an advanced single click digital keypad device. This device, with a LCD display, has an excellent feature that helps users to connect to emergency contact numbers immediately with ease. Elite Security Services is now a well known name in the security industry in Canada and the United States. Within a few months in the industry, they have created an excellent reputation by providing efficient security plans for an affordable price. This new device would now be a part of all three security plans from them.

This new component of home security systems from Elite Security Services can connect the users to the paramedics, fire stations, and police department within no time. It can also inform the homeowners about any emergency that takes place in the house when they are absent. Moreover, it has a highly efficient voice verification system. This system sends a security alert whenever the monitored doors or windows are opened by an unknown person." Any good security system must allow users to connect easily to the emergency services. This device will make life easier for all of you", says Paul Shakuri, the founder of Elite Security Services.

Their cost efficient and high performance security plans are now one of the most preferred options for homeowners in Canada and the United States. The company has made repeated enhancements to their home security systems to provide more benefits to their growing clientele. Greg from Ontario strongly recommends Elite Security Services for their excellent service. "I have been enjoying leak proof domestic security for an amazing price since last three months, thanks to Elite Security services. I have no hesitation at all in recommending them".

About the Company: Elite Security Services is a rapidly growing company in the home security industry. They offer highly efficient and economical home security solutions in America and Canada.

Contact

Paul Shakuri

Phone: 800-599-8452.

Website: <http://www.YourAlarmNow.com>