SIGVARIS' Latest Hosiery Options For Women Improve Leg Health and Fit Perfectly with the Chicest Summer Styles

SIGVARIS EverSheer and Soft Opaque lines now feature new open toe styles in a range of styles and colors to pair perfectly with wedge sandals and open toe high heels.

PEACHTREE CITY, GA – SIGVARIS, the global leader in medical compression hosiery and DVT prevention advocate, is excited to announce that the company is once again keeping compression hosiery fashionable with the launch of several new open toe product options for women.

SIGVARIS' fashion lines, EverSheer and Soft Opaque, both feature open toe styles that are perfect for open toe shoes. Based on customer demand, SIGVARIS made the EverSheer open toe styles available in black earlier this year, and Soft Opaque open toe products will be available for the first time this summer in black and nude.

All the open toe products in both lines are available in 15-20mmHg, 20-30mmHg and 30-40mmHg compression levels in calf-length, thigh-high and pantyhose styles to help complete the look of any fashionista.

Both EverSheer and Soft Opaque have been extremely popular among women with venous disorders who have been prescribed medical compression hosiery and also care about wearing a product that looks stylish. SIGVARIS strives to give people fashionable product options, while still delivering a medically sound product.

Both lines provide excellent breathability and moisture management, making them perfect products to wear year-round for work, dress or travel. SIGVARIS EverSheer & Soft Opaque compression hosiery lines provide the luxurious look of hosiery found at high-end department stores, making them very popular among women who want to improve their leg health.

For style savvy women, SIGVARIS EverSheer is available in black, dark navy, mocha, natural, nightshade, and suntan. EverSheer open toe styles are available in natural, suntan and black. SIGVARIS Soft Opaque is available in black, espresso, graphite, midnight blue and nude, and open toe styles for the line are available in black and nude. EverSheer provides a sheer look from ankle to thigh, while Soft Opaque features microfiber softness and looks like designer fashion tights.

SIGVARIS medical compression hosiery promotes leg health and is universally recommended for both the surgical and non-surgical treatment of venous disorders.
