5th ANNUAL Green Builder® Home of the Year Awards

2 0 1 2

Green Builder® magazine is looking for the best green homes that include sustainable features, innovative design, whole home performance, and integration with the natural environment.

Winners will receive coverage in the December 2012 issue of Green Builder magazine and on www.greenbuildermag.com.

GENERAL CATEGORY: Each year we recognize the BEST projects from the entries we receive and then categorize them. We feel this give each entrant the best possible chance to become a finalist as they are not attempting to fit their project into a category - they are simply showing their best work. All residential green designed and high-performance housing and communities meeting the following criteria are eligible for entry into the General Category:

- Grand opening or first occupancy between January 2011 and July 2012.
- Custom, production, remodeling/restoration, community and multifamily projects are all eligible.
- Third party certification (e.g., LEED, Energy Star, Environments for Living, etc.) is NOT an entry requirement.

MAINSTREAM GREEN CATEGORY: We continue our search for the most energy-efficient homes! To be eligible for this category your project must meet the following criteria:

- Grand opening or first occupancy between January 2011 and July 2012.
- Total project is less than 3,500 square feet (or 800 square feet per occupant).
- HERS rating of 50 or better (verification will be required).

Entry Fees
