HTC Canada Announces the Launch of their Thinnest Smartphone HTC One S with Bell, Telus, Fido, and Virgin Mobile, Reports Internet Marketing Services.

HTC Canada has finally announced the availability of HTC One S in Canada with Virgin Mobile, Bell, Telus, and Fido, according to a recently released market survey report from Internet Marketing Services. The Ontario based market survey company is well known for their unbiased review of different popular products.

HTC Canada has just strengthened their position in the Canadian market with the launch of their slimmest Smartphone HTC One S. This new series of Smartphone is reported to have an authentic sound and amazing camera, according to a recently published market survey by Internet Marketing Services. The market research company also reports that this highly anticipated Smartphone is now available on mobile networks from Bell, Virgin Mobile, Fido, and Telus. HTC One S is an integrated form of HTC Sense 4 and Android 4. The thorough survey from Internet Marketing Services suggests that the introduction of this advanced Smartphone would certainly strengthen HTC's position in the Canadian market.

HTC Canada was launched for the first time by AT&T, and since then the company has introduced some of the most beautiful Smartphones in Canada. During their survey, Internet Marketing Services has found that most of the Smartphone users prefer using slim handsets without compromising on features. HTC One S has been designed specifically for these users. The handset features HTC ImageSense to improve all parts of the camera including the software, sensor, and lens. A custom HTC ImageChip has also been introduced to ensure best possible image quality even in adverse conditions and super fast image capture.

About Internet Marketing Services: Internet Marketing Services is a private market research company that conducts market research on various topics. The company is based out of Ontario.

Contact: Paul Bonner http://www.htccanada.ca/