

HONDA PREMIER PARTNER

What's better than winning the Automotive Industry's top partnership award?

It's an honor just to partner with an organization like American Honda, so imagine what it feels like to be recognized with the organization's top honor: a Honda Premier Partner Award.

In 2012, Intrapromote was one of 15 companies picked to receive the Premier Partner Award from a list of over 1000 vendors.

We're the first pure-search firm to ever receive the award, and we earned it through hard work in areas such as domain consolidation, new model release, existing model overhaul, images, video, eCommerce, and consumer finance. And all on sites with sophisticated user-experience and brand expectations.

But this isn't the first time it's happened. In 2005, we received the same honor from American Honda, so that makes 2012's honor even more special. So if you ask what could be better than winning the most prestigious partnership honor in the Automotive Industry, Intrapromote has only one answer:

Winning it twice.
