Elite Security Services, a well known Arizona home security service provider, have been making life easier and safer for the homeowners throughout the state. The company has been operating successfully throughout the United States for more than a year and is presently considered to be one of the leading players in the industry for their cost efficient service.

Arizona home security provider Elite Security Services has now emerged as one of the top service providers in the state for providing leak proof security to households within an affordable price range. The company was formed just about a year ago by acclaimed home protection expert Paul Shakuri. Since the inception of the company, they have been extremely proactive towards developing security systems that can be afforded by common homeowners. Elite Security Services presently offers three domestic protection packages priced at $35.99, $40.99, and $44.99. In spite of offering an affordable price range, the company has done well to provide advanced home protection facilities with all their packages.

Unlike most other Arizona home security companies, Elite Security Services operates with a much larger vision than just selling home surveillance plans. Led by the charismatic owner Mr. Shakuri, the company has made a significant contribution towards promoting security awareness amongst the Arizona residents. With this purpose, the company maintains their home security blog to share important information pertaining to keeping the house safe from externalities. Offering security plans for rock bottom price is also a part of their initiative to enable all homeowners to provide protection to their life and property.

Talking about the overall state of Arizona home security, Mr. Shakuri says, "Like all other parts of the country, domestic security is a leading concern in Arizona, too. This is why all households now require surveillance system for their home. We have tried to play our part in creating security plans that are priced keeping the common buyers in mind". The economical protection facility offered by the company has not only provided the much needed security to the households but have also created consciousness amongst homeowners about home protection.

About the Company: Elite Security Services is a rapidly growing company in the home security industry. They offer highly efficient and economical home security solutions in America and Canada.
