

ROCKLER INTRODUCES NEW XL CRIBBAGE BOARD TEMPLATE KIT AND PEGS

XL Cribbage Template Kit Simplifies Game Board Construction

MEDINA, MN (June 26, 2012) - Rockler has just introduced two new game-building products for card-playing and gift-building customers – the XL Cribbage Template Kit and XL Cribbage Pegs. Users can now create their own functional racetrack style cribbage board simply by clamping the templates to their board of choice and drilling the holes.

Whether building a board for home use or to gift or sell, the new XL Cribbage Template Kit set helps woodworkers craft boards that can be used and appreciated for many years. The result is an oversized racetrack style cribbage board that will showcase the cut of wood as well as any personal touches the builder chooses to add.

"Having a stand-out board makes playing cribbage a really good time," said Steve Krohmer, vice president of product development. "These templates and pegs require only drilling to construct an elegant cribbage set to show off to family and friends. And best of all, you get to say you made it!"

Each XL Cribbage Template Kit includes two templates to guide drilling for every single hole on the board – curves, straightaways, and scoring – as well as a 1/4" self-centering drill bit made to fit the template holes. Each template features indexing pegs which allow quick referencing and alignment when drilling the board holes. The XL Cribbage Pegs pack contains six premium steel pegs – three chrome-plated and three gold-plated.

The XL Cribbage Template Kit (46368) retails for $47.99, while the XL Cribbage Pegs (49537) retail for $15.99. They are available at Rockler Woodworking and Hardware stores nationwide, Rockler independent resellers, Rockler.com, or in the Rockler catalog.
