Tripleseat is a Sales and Event Management web application that helps restaurants and event venues capture the $26 Billion event business and streamline the planning process.

Increase your sales

All restaurants are featured on Tripleseat.com

Generate more leads by expanding your venue's private event business on the web to active corporate and social event planners looking for venues to host their events.

Capture all inquiries via your website or the phone

Use lead landing pages to capture all inquiries from your existing website or phone. Never lose a lead again and have the ability to report and manage all leads via Tripleseat.

Integrate with ConstantContact and Fishbowl

Leverage your customer database and save time by easily sending professional emails and promotions with our integration with ConstantContact and Fishbowl.

Cross book multiple properties

Easily cross book any venue - no matter where you are. Never turn down business again because of space. Tie the entire enterprise together with a centralized database.

Facebook lead capturing

Capture more leads and receive a greater return on your investment with Facebook by enabling your Facebook visitors to request information directly from your Facebook page.

Pick up lost bookings

Use Tripleseat to find and book business that may have been turned down due to availability or space issues. Easily convert lost business to new business if you have a cancellation.

Save time and your sanity

Easily create any document

With documents, you can create any document you want with a few clicks of the mouse. Create Event orders, Contracts, Chef orders, Invoices and Proposals in a design to match your brand.

Add bookings and contacts

Tripleseat was designed for the event venue business, so it works the way you do. Easily add bookings, accounts and contacts without having to jump through a million fields.

Convert leads with a simple click

Never lose the details or cut and paste from email or Word again. Receive a lead, convert and it will become a booking automatically. From there, you can add more details.

Improve communication and customer service

Online event calendar

Eliminate the confusion of what event is booked and when. With our event calendar, anyone with rights can see the who, what and where of all events that are booked. You can also sync your Outlook, iCal or Google calendars.

Deliver any document online

Avoid confusion, multiple revisions and email clutter by delivering any doc via the internet. Let your customers see their event securely online. You have complete control and changes are visible to your customers in real time.

Know your customers

Keep everyone on the same page by having access via password and user role on where your clients book, how often and what they like. No longer treat your guests like strangers when they book at a new location.

Create powerful reports and access anywhere

Report on everything

No "canned" reports. Report on anything in your database. Understand who your best customers are, how much they spend, where your leads come from and your conversion rate of lead to booking. Forecast for future business.

Access from anywhere

Unleash yourself from your desk. Access Tripleseat from anywhere. No complicated VPN's or terminal servers required. No special hardware or software to install. If you can access the internet, you can access Tripleseat.

Designed specifically for venues

Tripleseat is the first and only web based Sales and Event management application designed specifically for event venue business. The user interface of Tripleseat was built to have everything you're interested in at your fingertips
