

ClearDATA & HP Introduce New EMR/PM-as-a-Service

Integrated CloudAgile program solution increases market penetration for healthcare software vendors.

ClearDATA introduces a new approach to EMR software delivery and new category of cloud services - EMR/PM-as-a-Service. We offer a pre-configured combination of ClearDATA's HIPAA-compliant, private cloud services utilizing HP's state-of-the-art technology to deliver EMR/PM software images as an integrated, single-solution service.

Our innovative solution simplifies configuration and eliminates the hassles of ordering, assembling, and installing technology fragments from different vendors. Faster installation improves sales agility which increases revenues.

- Faster deployment times, rapid time-to-revenue – one day vs. weeks or months to implement. No need to order hardware, coordinate with VARs and IT support companies
- Reduce support costs through centralized updates – ClearDATA can provide upgrades, patches, maintenance, etc.
- Customers have 100% uptime – our healthcare cloud platform has multiple failovers and guarantees “always-on” availability
- Increased performance through our state-of-the-art equipment and processing power - 20-45% real-world improvement testimonials
- No noticeable latency – we manage and test the bandwidth and can provide a dual connection router to ensure full redundancy
- Reduced upfront costs for customers – lower IT costs by as much as 20-50%
- Ensure client and patient data protection – unique 3-tier authentication and standard backup services included with disaster recovery options

As an HP CloudAgile Partner, ClearDATA and HP have jointly designed a new healthcare service using HP's powerful Converged Medical Infrastructure technology for scalable and reliable cloud service operations. ClearDATA's platform flexibility can deliver secure, centralized cloud services that support multiple Hypervisors, operating systems, and applications. Software patches and updates are managed from a single point by the vendor, providing rapid and consistent deployment of the latest innovations. Together, we provide the highest levels of Quality of Service, SLA's, and HIPAA security.

Most importantly, a bundled solution is available to sell through the entire base of HP internal and reseller sales channels. ClearDATA is the only CloudAgile Partner focused on healthcare. We make it easy for HP resellers to work with us because they are already familiar with the HP technology platform. Our innovative bundling of services and software simplifies the sales process and shortens your time to revenue.

Our goal is to provide our partners and their customers with the best cloud services and software solutions available in the market. Our team can quickly cloud-enable your applications and offer them as a bundled solution to our sales channel.

For more information on how we can cloud-enable your software and deliver it through the HP CloudAgile infrastructure and program, contact our ISV Partner Department at 602-635-4000 or send email to sales@cleardata.net.
