

Visual Steam takes on a new client in the stock photography market - Water Rights Images

July 2012

Visual Steam announces that it has taken on a new client in the stock photography market, Water Rights Images. Water Rights Images is a stunning collection of photography built on the single subject of WATER.

The collection includes both rights managed and royalty free images of water in the literal, abstract and subliminal form. Shot in some of the most beautiful places from the mountains to the oceans, the collection embodies the liquid that is essential to all life.

Visual Steam has been retained to launch and manage on an ongoing basis Water Rights Images sales effort; building and managing a team of experienced licensing professionals.

“Water Rights Images is a great addition to Visual Steam. They join companies like Citizen Stock and Lived In Images in approaching licensing sales in a fresh and new way.” says Leslie Hughes, President and CEO of Visual Steam.

Virginie Miramon adds, “We are delighted to be working with Visual Steam. They are a great resource for us adding tremendous knowledge and human resources to our sales and marketing effort.”

For more information about Water Rights Images, we invite you to visit the website www.waterrightsimages.com.

About Visual Steam

Visual Steam is the first sales and marketing services provider to focus exclusively on the content and licensing industries. The company offers a broad range of services to business clients including contract sales support, management services, training and marketing support. Visual Steam is a “DBA” of Equidyne Holdings LLC. For more information on Visual Steam, we invite you to go to www.visualsteam.com, or contact info@visualsteam.com.