

Superstars: The New Way of Staffing

Yes, we know you're thinking: "Another recruitment agency: this is exactly who we don't want to deal with", but you couldn't be further from the truth.

Imagine a way of being introduced to dozens of Superstar talents, all producing work at the top of their game, with no margins, no fees and none of the usual nonsense you've sadly come to expect from recruitment agencies. A pretty special proposition, but then we think Superstars are a pretty special company. And this is what we mean by "The New Way of Staffing".

At Superstars we have come up with a new value way to source staff, which is aligned to the new trends in staffing and the consistent needs of our Talent. Our new way will give you an increase in service and substantial discounts to your staffing needs and will also give you access to our growing global staffing network.

The 60-year-old "%" revenue stream for staffing can no longer be considered cost effective and is, in fact, a hindrance to finding great Talent.

Our subscription-based model means:

- No commission costs
- No permanent fees
- No temp-perm fees
- No margins

We offer employers a unique and simple staffing model that ensures they get access to the best people in their field with no margins or fees - full stop. Our Talent get the chance to work on exciting projects that suit their skills and goals, plus we provide a support network of advisors, mentors and benefits that we think is unique in the recruitment sector.
