

Activity Management Skills Training Company AttackYourDay.com Boosts Motivation And Productivity

Saint. Louis, May 18, 2012

AttackYourDay headquartered in Anthem, AZ and headed by Mark Woods launched a new program to help companies and individuals get more out of their day by training them unique time and product management skills.

Established in the late 90's as the exclusive time management training partner for the Day-Timer corporation, the Attack Your Day company has evolved to match trends, technology and demands in the training business. So Woods launched the AttackYourDay.com web site and Attack Your Day blog approximately two years ago.

“We work with individuals, small businesses, and fortune 500 companies to maximize productivity,” said Mark Woods, President of Attack Your Day, online at: AttackYourDay.com. “We sell books, DVD's, live and on-demand training.”

“Our goal is to become a leading provider of personal and professional development resources for individuals and companies seeking to become top performers,” said Woods.

Recently, AttackYourDay.com turned to the power of email marketing by using 1AutomationWiz software solutions in their online trainings and for sales and marketing tasks as well.

A favorite online marketing technique used to grow the business is email, with a focus on using the email broadcasting feature of 1AutomationWiz software. 1AutomationWiz has given Woods' company the tools necessary to build their email database and thus sell their products with ease.

Current and up-and-coming products and services of Attack Your Day include a new program that is scheduled to be released this fall called, "Work-Life Integration.”
